Casting

In response to Chris' treatment which calls for authenticity and recognisably real people, our approach to the casting has been to source fresh faces who may not fall into the more traditional "model" types and to suggest people for the roles, not just based on looks but on experiences they have had that would help them to be convincing, since we are dealing primarily with non-actors and prep time is limited - e.g. John, who we propose for the rehab scene, has had two recent hip replacements and can convey the struggle to get back on his feet and still walks with a noticeable limp.

Where a scene calls for interaction and familiarity with a group or couple, we have tried to find people with existing relationships that will be instantly believable on screen - e.g. the four men put forward for the cricket watching scene are friends who regularly get together; the baby, mother and "diaper" dad are a new family.

Once we get feedback on this first set, we'll be in a better position to suggest other people.
